

You Can Be Notified of Review/Release Hearings for Serious Juvenile Offenders...

As a result of Virginia's 1995 Crime Victim and Witness Rights Act, victims have the right to be notified upon a defendant's release from incarceration. This includes notices of release hearings for minors who have been adjudicated as serious juvenile offenders. If you wish to be notified if/when the Department of Juvenile Justice petitions the JDR Court for review/release of the juvenile defendant in your case, you must request that notification in writing.

It is your responsibility to notify this office. If interested, fill out the information requested below, detach it, and return it to:
